Women Pastors still able to participate in Deborah's Daughters

Found this announcement on Homestead Presbytery's website about the women's social media website award. The announcement is included at the end of article. This was part of the Deborah's Daughters event that was held at Camp Calvin Crest in November as part of the Qaud - Consortium.

Sarah Dickinson was one of the hosts for the event. The plans are for the group to continue to meet and have invited women that were not able to attend the November gathering to attend the next meeting, March 12, 2012 in Omaha, Noon to 2:00 at Church of the Cross, 1517 South 114th Street.

Here is what Sarah had to report on the event.

Saturday November 19, 2011 –

Just wanted to let you know that we had a good Deborah's Daughters day yesterday. It was good to have Nancy Young as a facilitator because we delved into deep issues that wouldn't come up over a general clergy lunch.

Thank you for your support of this event.

I think we really need to thank Calvin Crest. They made a nice lunch for us even though we didn't meet their threshold for numbers. They took a hit for us. Craig was phenomenal to work with.

The women who attended were Omaha-centric (even if from Homestead) and we've decided to meet together again on our own.

Nadia Mullen from Church of the Cross offered to host lunch and conversation on March 12 noon to 2:00 at her church.

We'll see where this Omaha based group goes. Perhaps it could contain the seed for another quad-related offering.

*Over and out! Rev. Sarah K. Dickinson • Mosher-Pilgrim Presbyterian Church • 4622 Monroe Street
Omaha, NE 68117 • 402-731-7222*

I have included some links for the Presbyterian website and information for any of the women pastors, either Teaching Elder or Commissioned Ruling Elder. If there is anything I can do to help please let me know.
